Christmas Celebration Considered

MAYOR FORSTER SUGGESTS TREE AND SANTA FOR YOUNGSTERS

Plans for a Christmas celebration for the youngsters of Wainwright and surrounding district on the afternoon of Saturday, Dec. 24, were presented to the town council by Mayor M. L. Forster at the meeting last week. Favorable discussion by the council members followed the suggestion, and definite action will be taken later.

The celebration, as outlined by Mayor Forster, calls for a town Christmas tree, Santa Claus in person to greet the children of the district, presents for each child to be given out by Santa Claus, and decoration of the business district in keeping with the Yuletide season.

Council members commented favorably on the idea as an aid to Wainwright business in this district, as well as an expression of Christmas cheer for the youngsters of Wainwright.

TEACHERS TO MEET

The Teachers convention to be held at Edmonton today, and tomorrow, Nov. 9 and 10, will be attended by Miss Secord and Miss Cain of the Wainwright high school. After the strenuous workout on term tests Monday and Tuesday for both students and teachers, the students will be given a vacation for the rest of the week.

NOTED I.O.O.F. MAN DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Br. A. E. May, P.G.M., P.G.P., and P.G.R. of the Odd Fellow organization of Alberta died suddenly last Wednesday at Edmonton. He fell unconscious on the street where he was picked up and rushed to the hospital where he died within an hour. The death was due to heart failure. W. J. Huntingford had paid a visit to Mr. May only an hour or two before.

WILL LOSE EYESIGHT

Alf Lilly whose eye was severely injured last week while he was working on a fence in Wainwright is still in the Edmonton hospital. The doctor there reports that he will probably not lose his eye but that the sight will be gone.

Sunday School Meeting Here

Both practical methods and inspirational assistance were provided Sunday school workers at the Sunday school convention of the Presbytery at the United Church last Wednesday. A good attendance was marked up at both afternoon and evening sessions.

The technique of Sunday school work was taken up at the afternoon session, with Rev. S. R. Osborne of Paradise Valley, Rev. Wesley Bainbridge of Edgerton, Rev. J. R. Geeson of Irma, and Rev. R. W. Hibbert of Calgary as speakers. A supper session, followed by recreation and business, was held at the church.

A general meeting was held in the evening with Rev. Mr. Hibbert, who is secretary of the Religious education council of Alberta, as the main speaker, his topic being "Religion Now." He also spoke on Young People work in the province. Rev. J. W. Bainbridge of Viking also spoke on the topic "The Living Christ," and Rev. W. J. Huston was in charge of the service. Mrs. W. J. Huntingford sang a solo for the special musical number.

REV. MacMILLAN WILL SPEAK HERE

Rev. A. MacMillan, D.D., secretary of the committee on church worship in the United Church of Canada, who held the position of secretary of the committee of the new Hymnary, will be at the United Church here at both services next Sunday. He will preach in the morning and will deal especially with the Hymnary in the evening. Both these services should be of special interest to all lovers of sacred song.

NOTICE

As there appears to be some confusion as to who are entitled to attend the Legion Dinner on Armistice night, the following are cordially invited:—

All ex-service men or women; any wife, mother, daughter, sister, widow, father or son of an ex-service man and any member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

CHAS. H. HORN,
Secretary.

Armistice Day Service Friday

SERVICE AT TOWER AT 11;
MEETING AT THEATRE

Memorial services for Canadian soldiers who made the final sacrifice in the World war will be held the morning of Friday, Nov. 11, under the direction of Canadian Legion Branch No. 29. Practically all local stores plan to close in honor of the day, and several churches also plan special services.

The services will open at the Memorial tower at 11 a.m., to be attended by Legion men in a body. Two minutes silence, laying of a wreath and Last Post make up the ceremonial planned at the tower.

This will be followed by an open meeting at the Elite Theatre at 11:10 a.m. The meeting will be opened by all singing one verse of "O Canada," a short prayer by the chairman, W. S. Brooker, and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The remainder of the program will include: Hymn, "Stand Up for Jesus"; Scripture reading by Rev. W. J. Huston, followed by a short prayer; Hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers"; A short talk by Rev. Father Doyle; an address by Rev. C. N. Bateman; closing hymn, "Abide With Me," followed by the benediction and "God Save the King."

There will be an old war helmet at each door to receive contributions to be used for the support of the Soldiers' Hut at the University Hospital in Edmonton and the T.B. branch of the Canadian Legion.

In the evening, there will be a Legion dinner, to which all ex-service men and women, and the wives, mothers, daughters, sisters, widows, fathers and sons of ex-service men are invited.

The Anglican church is planning a special service for Armistice day next Sunday evening, and is also holding a special Holy Communion at the church at 8 a.m. Friday. The Armistice Day service for the Church of the Blessed Sacrament will be held Sunday at 11 a.m. instead of Friday. The young People's society of the United Church held a special service last Sunday evening.

ARGENTINE WHEAT WILL NOT AFFECT CANADA

OTTAWA.—The correspondent of the dominion bureau of statistics at Buenos Aires reports the official estimate of the wheat crop at 225,922,000 bushels, carryover 16,304,000, total 242,226,000. Seed and domestic consumption requirements are set at 95,532,000.

He says: "With practically no wheat coming forward there is no selling pressure whatever here, and our prices continue too high in comparison with those quoted by other exporting countries for there to be any hope of doing business with European buyers."

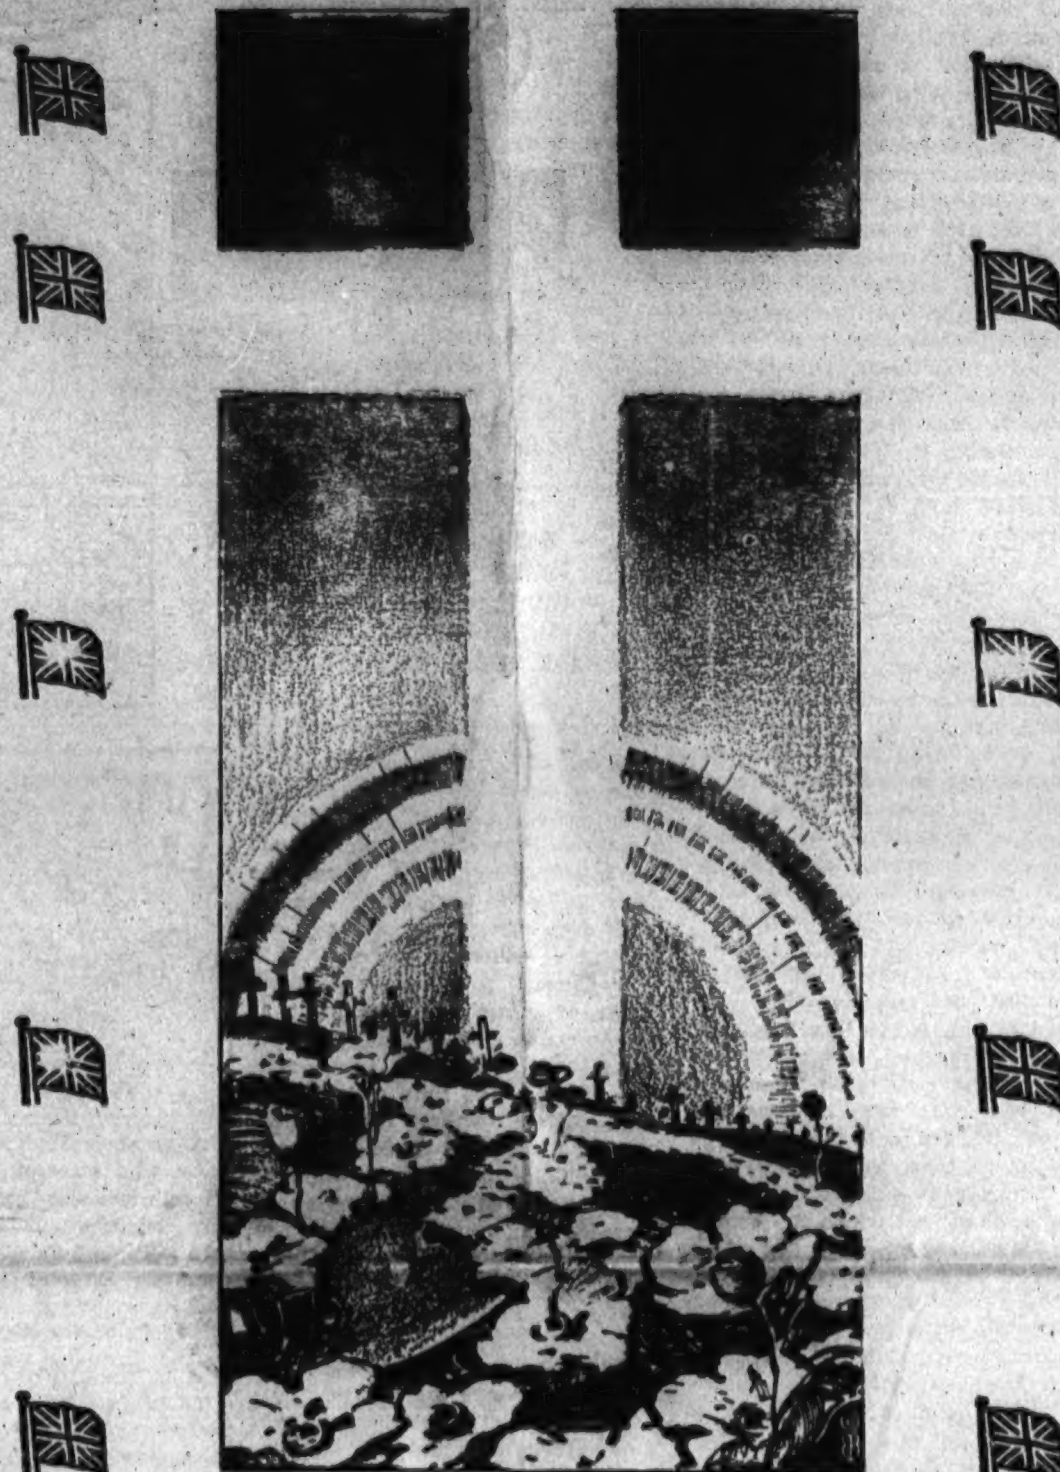

"Our influence in the international trade is nil, and will continue to be so until the new crop materializes, meanwhile leaving to Canada and United States the leading roles in the determination of export wheat prices."

MARKETS

The week's wheat prices, as supplied by the Alberta Pool elevator, show a two cent rise in the price of wheat in a week's time:

Day	Wheat
Wednesday	27c
Thursday	26½c
Friday	26½c
Saturday	27c
Monday	28½c
Tuesday	28½c

Lest We Forget!

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Speech Planned on Prosperity

Prosperity and how to recover it will be the general topic of a public meeting in Wainwright this afternoon at 2:30 at the I.O.O.F. hall. This is one of a series of meetings sponsored in Alberta by the Retail Merchants association. A special meeting will also be held at 8 o'clock tonight for merchants and their assistants who are unable to attend this afternoon.

Speakers scheduled to appear are Mr. J. R. Love, M.L.A., Mr. Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner, and Mr. A. C. MacKay, secretary of the Retail Merchants association. "How to solve the depression problem" is the title of the meeting.

SPECIAL ARMISTICE CHURCH SERVICES

On Sunday evening next at St. Thomas Church a special Armistice Service will be held when seats will be reserved for returned men. The church will be appropriately decorated for the occasion and suitable music will be rendered. On Friday morning, Armistice Day, there will be Holy Communion at the church at 8 a.m. Any one wishing to have the names of an Fallen Comrade remembered at any of these services please give the names to either Mr. R. Robertson or the Vicar.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWN OF WAINWRIGHT

My request, bearing on Remembrance Day, as published a year ago, met with such hearty response at the hands of our citizens that I feel constrained to again draw your attention to the purpose in proclaiming the Eleventh day of November an annual holiday. I feel that, in sacrificing business for a single day, we are making but a small contribution to the memory of our Canadian soldiers who sacrificed their lives in the service of their country. Friday of the present week is the day set apart for this purpose and I trust that our citizens generally will unite in abstaining from business on that day with a view of revering the memory of those whose memory was bequeathed to us by them as a sacred trust.

Town of Wainwright.

CANADIAN LEGION, B.E.S.L. WAINWRIGHT BRANCH No. 29

General Annual Meeting will be held in the Masonic Hall on Saturday, November 26th, 1932, at 9 p.m.

All ex-service men are urgently requested to be present.
CHAS. H. HORN,
Secretary.

Noted Minister to Speak Monday

Rev. Hugh Dobson, D.D., of Vancouver, associate secretary of the department of evangelism and social service of the United Church of Canada, and supervisor of this department for the four western provinces, is to be the speaker Monday night, Nov. 14, at a meeting of the new Social Study club at the Masonic hall.

This is the first meeting of the club since it has been reorganized. It is a city-wide affair, including all religious and political groups. The public is cordially invited to the lecture.

Rev. Mr. Dobson is the club's first speaker and he will give them the religious aspect of the organization. He has had splendid success in promoting Men's Brotherhoods in British Columbia, is an able speaker, and has given special study for a considerable time to the subject he is taking at the meeting here.

Rev. Mr. Dobson is to be at Greenhills Monday noon to speak at a luncheon. Everyone is asked to bring his own lunch to the affair there. Rev. Mr. Dobson will also speak at Edgerton at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday on "Christian World Order and Christianity and the New Day."

Lots of society news this week—page four.

COWS AND OIL Don't Mix

Live stock hazards in an oil country are numerous and apt to be serious. So J. Paul, who lives on the British Wainwright property in the Sydenham district, discovered to his sorrow last week. A cow grazing in a field evidently mistook a pool of oil for water, became embedded and suffocated.

Skating Rink Now Assured

COUNCIL APPROVES WORK;
PAYS $3255 BILLS

Work on an outdoor skating rink for Wainwright to enjoy this winter is well under way, and the town council committee in charge of the work was last week authorized by the full council to complete the rink. In a few more weeks work will be completed and both adults and children may look forward to good skating.

Lots 16 to 22 in Block 5, just back of Forster and Brunner garage on Third avenue have been leveled and graded for the large rink. The rink is to be closed in by a fence, good lighting will be installed and other work done to make it a first class rink.

The Gordon building has been moved to the skating rink site. It will be equipped with both heat and light and will serve as a dressing room and shelter.

Joe Richardson, who has probably taught at least half the people in Wainwright to skate, is donating his services as manager of the rink. He always has shown a great interest in the welfare of the school children and he will spare no effort for their comfort and safety.

Adults will be charged a small admittance fee for use of the rink, but all children will have free use of the rink, under certain regulations.

The report of the rink committee was received and acted upon by the town council at a busy meeting Tuesday of last week. Council also authorized payment of $3255.73 in bills. Largest items in the payment were: debenture principal and interest, Bank of Montreal, $507.93; debenture, principal and interest, Bank of Montreal, $563.93; Wainwright school district on 1932 requisition, $1500.

Permission was given by the council to Rev. Hugo Doyle to conduct religious services in the cemetery Sunday, and also to erect a large wooden cross such as is usually erected in a Roman Catholic burying ground.

Arrangements were also made to renew the insurance on the fire hall and pumping equipment, amounting to $10,000.

S.S. CONVENTION AT EDGERTON TUESDAY

EDGERTON.—A large crowd, including delegates from Ribstone and Paradise Valley and many persons from rural church points, attended the Sunday school convention held at the Edgerton United Church Tuesday of last week. The afternoon program was given over to discussion of methods and technique in Sunday school teaching, and Rev. S. R. Osborne of Paradise Valley, Rev. Wesley Bainbridge of Edgerton and Rev. W. J. Huston of Wainwright were the speakers.

A general meeting was held in the evening, with a very large attendance. Rev. J. W. Bainbridge of Viking and Rev. R. W. Hibbert of Calgary, secretary of the religious education council of Alberta, were the inspirational speakers.

Biggeritis or Biggeritis—anyway it's discussed in detail in the editorial column.

New Arrivals

Moore—Mr. and Mrs. L. Moore of Hope Valley are the parents of a baby daughter born Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the Wainwright hospital.

Hicks—Mr. and Mrs. C. Hicks of Gilt Edge are the parents of a baby son born Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the municipal hospital.

Town Council Had Regular Meeting Tues.

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED ON VARIOUS TOWN AFFAIRS

The Wainwright Town Council met in regular session at 8 o'clock p.m. on Tuesday, the 1st day of November 1932. The members of council present at this meeting were Mayor Forster and Councillors Loudfoot, Robinson, Coursier, Patterson and Welch.

The recorded proceedings of the previous regular meeting were read and, on motion, were adopted and confirmed as written.

Rev. Hugo Doyle addressed a communication to council requesting permission to conduct religious services in the Cemetery on Sunday, the 6th inst., and seeking authority to erect a large wooden cross in the Cemetery such as that erected generally in Roman Catholic burial grounds. On motion, both requests were granted by council, the wooden cross to be erected at a spot selected by the writer of the letter and the Cemetery Committee, acting in co-operation.

Mr. W. Alexander wrote complaining of the rental charged for the holding of the annual meeting of the United Grain Growers in the Council Chamber and requesting a rebate. On motion, the matter was left for the secretary-treasurer to deal with, confirming the former motion placing the rental of the Council Chamber in his hands.

Several accounts submitted by the doctors of the town were considered under the head of Introduction and Consideration of Bills and Accounts and, on motion, the secretary-treasurer was instructed to write the doctors submitting these accounts requesting that they meet Council at its next regular meeting to discuss fully the merits of the several accounts with a view of finally disposing of all claims connected therewith.

The Finance Committee reported that they had examined the following accounts and found them correct, recommending payment thereof in a total of $3255.73:

C. T. Lally, postage stamps	$3.00
Bank of Montreal, deb., prin. and interest	507.93
Thos. Fotheringham, fire dept. maintenance	3.00

Dominion Loan Oversubscribed

MONTREAL.—The Dominion's $25,000,000 short-term loan was snapped up in a little over an hour after the books were opened.

The bonds are for three years, priced at 99.20 and yielding 4.28 per cent. In addition, Canada put on sale $55,000,000 of 20-year bonds at 93.45, returning 4 1/2 per cent.

The committee of financial experts in charge of the sale were highly pleased at the reception accorded the short-term issue, and at the rate the $55,000,000 issue was being bought believed it would soon be over-subscribed.

A maturing Victory Loan of $34,500,000 will be paid off from the loan, while the rest will be used to meet expenditures in connection with the Canadian National Railways and other government expenses.

Among the large contributors to the two loans were: Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, $2,500,000; Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, $2,000,000; National Trust Company, $1,000,000; Mutual Life Insurance Company, $1,000,000; London Life Insurance Company, $1,000,000; Confederation Life Association, $1,000,000; Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford, $600,000; and Imperial Life Assurance Company, $500,000.

VIKING MINISTER TO PREACH HERE

On Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m., Evensong will be held in St. Thomas church, when the special preacher will be Rev. Tim Matthews of Viking. The service will be followed by a parishioners social in the parish hall.

BIGGER IT IS

I have a friend living in a town that is named Bigger. In fact I was in Bigger the other night and ever since I have had Bigger on my mind, not that my mind is any bigger since I saw Bigger or that Bigger is any bigger because I was there. It was bigger when I was there and the funny thing is that it is still Bigger. Can you figure that out?

I don't feel any bigger since I left Bigger just because I was in Bigger but I've been thinking about bigger things and wondering if Wainwright should not be bigger than Bigger. I am not complaining because Wainwright is not bigger than Bigger but I feel bigger when I think that we all should make Wainwright bigger than Bigger. Now I can say anything that is bigger than just the word bigger, then maybe I can help Wainwright to be bigger than Bigger. Now, come to think of it there are several ways that the people of Wainwright can be bigger than the people of Bigger, not saying anything against the people of Bigger.

I am beginning to think that I must have had something to drink or else didn't have anything to drink that had something bigger in it or did not have anything bigger in it, but I have heard that people can drink something with a big kick in it and they feel bigger than they really are and then when the hang-over comes they feel like their head had the biggest headache ever. So they feel bigger when they have it and they feel bigger when they don't have it. There must be something wrong with this typewriter for about all the words the thing will write is bigger. I know you must be getting tired of Bigger. Well, I won't say or write Bigger any more but I will write bigger.

Now, I do believe this town could be bigger morally than it is. I think it could be bigger spiritually than it is. I think it could be bigger educationally. I think that anybody or anything that does not get bigger all the time is liable to get smaller. There is a process of wear and tear going on all the time and if things don't get bigger they are sure to get smaller. If the churches don't try to get bigger they will likely become smaller. If individuals do not strive to be bigger in character they will dry up and blow away. Most of us are blown to the limit and we have nothing else to do but wither away and not even good bait for crows any more. Now there is one part of this town that is getting bigger all the time and it is not as attractive as it will be some day. Mr. McLeod drove around the other day and asked me if I wanted to drive out to the cemetery with him. I pinched myself to see if I was alive for when the Undertaker takes you for a ride, well maybe he will leave you there and I thought I was like the fellow I mentioned last week: Maybe I was dead and didn't know it. All the way out I kept up a rapid fire of conversation to try to convince Mr. McLeod that I was alive so he wouldn't make the dreadful mistake of burying me alive. Now cemeteries are places we must visit when we are alive and we must stay in when we are dead. For the life of me I didn't know which way my fate would be decided. He showed me all around the grounds and I was expecting all the time for him to ask me where I wanted him to dump me.

Now listen to this wise crack. Every town ought to have a grave yard but no town should be a grave yard. Perhaps there are towns that are good specimens of graveyards and after all, the graveyard is the brightest and prettiest spot in the community and I suppose in that case we all should be in the bright spot. For any town that will let the grave yard be prettier than the town should all be in the grave yard. That leads me to remark that more hedges and trees and flowers and other prettier things should be introduced in Wainwright. Let's never let the graveyard be prettier and more attractive than the town. Then there is another thing that I happened to think of. Some of us try to give our dead loved ones prettier clothes when they are buried than we give them when they are alive. Of course we want them to look nice when they are dead but why not look after that more carefully when they are alive. Then we want nice things said about ourselves and about the loved ones when they are dead but why not say more nice things to them when they are alive and maybe we will not feel so bad when they are taken away from us. We buy roses to place on their coffins and on the grave, but do we ever give the roses to the living? That is just a habit we all have gotten into, but why not change it now? If we live like we are alive we won't need to worry about what will be said about us after we are dead. Now let's all try to be bigger and better people. Let us join in making our town of Wainwright one of the biggest and most generous towns in the Province. Make the town bigger and better than the graveyard. Let us make the town an attractive place for people to come here and live. Make it bigger socially, morally and spiritually. "So most 't be."

This poem was contributed by Fre. Adams of Gilt Edge, and we are glad to print it under this head:

The Farmer

A farmer's back must be of steel,
His brain must be compact,
For all his grain he takes away,
And brings no money back.

He works all year from dawn to dark
Trying hard to win,
But with the present government
Just she the shape he's in.

He's going back most every day
But still you'll see him laugh,
Because he knows that Bennett's term
Is getting near the last.

He will not help the farmer,
But just you wait and see—
He'll lose his job completely
If it's left to you and me.

PROFITEERING PATRIOTISM
Condensed from New York Tribune
Magazine (June 26, '32)

Is it true that any large number of our ex-soldiers wish to present a bill for patriotism? If they do, would they not rather postpone the bill until the needy have been cared for?

Or do they believe, because they once wore the nation's uniform, that they are set off in a favored class, and should come first?

If that is so, perhaps it would be as well to pay the bill. The act of Congress authorizing it might provide that all our school histories should faithfully portray this profiteering kind of patriotism, which comes home with its hand out.

Let history say, of course, that many of our soldiers were disinterested patriots, prepared to risk their lives for an issue they believed in, and intelligent enough to know their best service to the country would be to put it on its feet again after the costly struggle. Let history say that no one knows how many or how few individuals who wore the uniform insisted on having their honor commuted in cash. But if the number is large enough to throw a bad scare into Congress, let history record that fact also.

We went into the war with more thought for the enlisted man, whether he was drafted or a volunteer, than any nation has ever shown before for any army. We provided insurance, and allotments for families, and recreation and entertainment and education, both in the training camps and in the field. We set aside vast sums for the wounded and the disabled; if our good intentions in that respect went astray, it was not the fault of the people at large. We made no distinction between the comparatively few who reached the line of danger and the innumerable toilers who supported the line and furnished the supplies. We were proud of the fighters as fellow-citizens. We regret that some of them prefer to have us think of them as employees, who wish to raise their wages after the work is done.

No doubt there will be opportunity in Congress to point out that any extraordinary aid which the country can afford should go to those who really need it, whether they fought in the war, or whether they did not. Meanwhile the private citizen, whose gratitude the ex-soldier is claiming in dollars and cents, might as well just say how much gratitude he has.

We owe a debt to the dead.

We owe a debt to the wounded.

We owe a debt to the bereaved families, and to all for whom the absence of their men meant distress.

We owe a debt to the comparatively few soldiers whose careers were damaged by their service in arms.

But to the vast majority, who came home unscathed, we owe nothing at all. If the conflict wrecked the world, we are all in the same boat.

It is time we told the truth about the war, particularly about this war as the American soldier knew it. For the soldier who escapes without a wound, war is damnably fascinating.

It begins with a complete release from responsibility, such as a mature person can enjoy nowhere else in human society. You are fed and clothed, moved about over the earth with the least possible worry on your part. If the war goes wrong, it is not your fault, and the sense of detachment enables you to criticize the high command or the second lieutenant with a surgical precision. You become, not a man of action, as the uninitiated might suppose, but a philosopher, and you enjoy your philosophy.

In about nine cases out of ten, the uniform vastly improves your appearance, and army etiquette improves your manners, and beyond your extreme hopes you become a success. You walk in glamour, and your prestige with the ladies is outrageous. Kind women greet you in canteens, flatter you, dance with you, take an interest in your soul—and women of another sort of kindness overwhelm you with another sort of generosity, not mentioned in your letters home.

We have not forgotten the men whose total experience of war was in the mud and the trenches, who gave service more than devoted, and who were too busy at it to profit by any of the relaxation the folks at home tried to provide for them. It is not of these men that we speak here. As a general rule, they are the ones who have not asked for a bonus, nor have they cared to dwell publicly on the personal sacrifices they made in order to serve their country.

It would be interesting to know how many soldiers were better off financially in the army than before they enlisted, and how many went back to better jobs afterward. No doubt some had difficulty in reorienting themselves, but they are much overbalanced by those whom the army trained to trades, of whom the war's deep experiences were a stimulus and an education.

Few small towns in the United States offer such entertainment as the American soldier enjoyed almost up to the fighting line. In the welfare huts he had films and lectures and concerts and plays and books. Against all this he registered many a complaint and many a grumble, as the soldier tradition, but he rarely missed a performance, and he knew he was hearing more famous singers and seeing more first-rate actors and actresses than would ever come his way in peace times, unless he lived in the large cities. He had all this free, of course.

But the greatest privilege of war is not provided by the welfare workers, and for some reason it is rarely spoken of, even in the memoirs of veterans. To serve in an active army, even when you are not under fire, is to live in more parts of your nature, in a greater variety of nerves, with a keener sensitiveness and a more vital energy than you suspected you had. The mere possibility of danger, the fate that hangs over you, even if it does not fall, makes life inexpressibly colorful. The fateful thing about war is this, that nothing in peace gives you so much the sense of being alive. Until pacifism reckons with this fact, we shall have wars, because the man who has been through a war and has not been hurt, will usually try the next war, in the hope of living again before he dies.

And the calamity which the soldier really bewails is getting out of the uniform, becoming a deflated hero. The women no longer feel it their duty to flatter you, the men treat you as one of themselves, the world expects you to get on in the old, old way, by work. And the world in peace times is comparatively dull.

It is hard luck. Realizing that he is worse off than he was in the army, the soldier easily teaches himself to believe that he is worse off than before he went in the army. He has a grievance against an ungrateful country. He will speak to his Congressman about it.

That's really what he wants us to compensate him for.

Nations rise and fall, but culture moves on forever.—Calgary Herald.

SELF-TREATMENT

A great deal of harm is done by those who attempt to treat themselves when they are suffering from any condition which requires treatment. Provided that there is no such condition present, they may do nothing worse than waste money, but they may do themselves actual harm by the continued use of drugs.

To begin with, a diagnosis must precede proper treatment. It is not always easy to make a diagnosis. Years of training and experience, together with facilities for special examinations, are the means at the doctor's disposal to enable him to make a diagnosis. No human being is infallible, however, and so there are limits to medical knowledge and skill, consequently, the doctor is sometimes baffled.

The proper treatment of disease demands supervision by a physician. The diagnosis reveals the presence of the disease, and, at the same time, its extent and severity are ascertained. Further, the general condition of the patient is studied and the state of the vital organs looked into. With the information he gathers, the physician can prescribe the treatment required for the disease, adjusting the dosage to the patient's general condition. The physician observes the effects of the treatment and, from time to time, makes such alterations as are required by the progress of the disease and by changes in the condition of the patient.

It is impossible for anyone to do this for himself. Too often the cancer case comes to his doctor only after he has wasted valuable time treating himself for what he thought was "indigestion". The advanced case of tuberculosis frequently tells of treating himself for months for the "cold" he could not "shake off".

It is of course true that many people treat themselves and apparently suffer no ill effects. The point is that if they required treatment—which many of them did not—they were taking a serious risk. That these individuals escaped ill effects does not alter the fact that others have allowed disease to go on to an advanced or incurable stage while they have frittered their time and their money away trying to treat themselves.

Treatment has the most to offer when disease is in its earliest stages. It is then that it is most difficult to make a diagnosis, and, unfortunately, it is the time when self-treatment is indulged in. Early adequate treatment should be secured to prevent the occurrence of the serious conditions which grow out of self-treatment.

'STAR DUST'

"You admit, then," said an Alabama judge, "that you stole the hog?"

"Ah sure has to, Jedge," said the colored prisoner.

"Well, nigger, there's been a lot of hog-stealing going on around here lately and I'm just going to make an example of you or none of us will be safe."

Three young lads of the village accosted the minister and fired the question at him. "Ha' ye heard the news?"

"No."

"The de'lls dead!"

"Is that so?" replied the cleric, looking at them with great compassion. "Then I must gang and pray for three fatherless laddies!"

Customer—"What's wrong with these eggs?"

Waitress—"Don't ask me, I only laid the table."

A Visit to The Holy Land

On the morning of February 20, as we start out sightseeing and visiting the different places of note in and around the city of Jerusalem I shall not take our travels up in the order that we made them but will try to take up and describe as best that I can the places where Jesus Christ spent the last few hours before he was crucified.

We go now to the Garden of Gethsemane which is perhaps one half of a mile outside of the walls of the old City. The Garden lies to the left of the road as you go to Jericho, the Dead Sea, and the River Jordan. It is situated on the side of a hill not so very steep, and is longer up and down, than it is wide, and as well as I could tell would not contain more than two acres, perhaps not so much. There is a narrow alley leading up the left side of the garden perhaps two-thirds of the way to the upper side. Then we come to a small house just to the left of the garden gate, where the Keeper of the Garden lives. The garden seems to be under a state of cultivation. The entire garden seems to have been recently plowed, but outside of the rows of olive trees which covered the entire garden, there were a few flowers blooming. We were allowed to pick two flowers each, and as many olive leaves as we wanted. I took a small container and brought it full of dirt from the Garden. I believe that there were three of the olive trees in the Garden which were pointed out to us as being there during Christ's time. They were large, craggy and about half dead. The Garden is protected by a picket fence and had the appearance of being well kept.

We leave the Garden and go to The Judgment Hall, which is inside of the wall of the old part of the City, but not located at the highest point. I have been in court houses in the States, which the Judgment Hall put me in mind of except it is highly decorated, while ours are more plain. It is longer than wide; the rostrum at the end is about 2½ feet higher than the main floor. The chairs were in a semi-circle, perhaps 20 or 25, while the chair pointed out to us as being "Plato's" set rather in front.

From here we were taken to Mount Calvary and the upper Chamber, which is not far away but at the highest point in the city. I haven't very much to say about what the guide pointed out as being Mount Calvary, as I have my serious doubts of it being correct. However, we were taken through a Cathedral rather to the back part there is a level yard, as we would term it, perhaps 40x40 feet. To the right as we came out stands the "Upper Chamber" two stories high, looked to be about 16x40 feet with a short L at the far end of the upper chamber. This seems to be the entrance to the building. Just in front of the L, perhaps 8 feet from the door, we saw a small box about 1½x2½ feet and in that box which is about 3 inches high the box had been filled with cement and near the center is an imprint of a foot. The guide was careful to tell us that this was not made by "Christ's foot" but to mark the exact spot where His foot last left the earth. There is a small house about 8x8 feet built over this place to protect it.

We next visited the Jewish Walling Walls. These are connected up to a cathedral, and as we went out through the door, there was a wall on either side, about 20 feet apart and perhaps 10 feet high. We were there but once, but we are told that Jews could be found there any time of the day. There is no certain nor set time for them to assemble, but some could be found any time during the day, and they seem very much in earnest in their pleading for God to restore Jerusalem to them as it once was.

Do You Remember When - - - -

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Nov. 13, 1912

Last night at the town council the tax rate was placed at 28 mills on the dollar, the current rate 14, the debenture 8, and the school tax 6. At the meeting W. W. Carter, who was hired sometime ago to superintend the construction of the fire hall reported that with few exceptions the fire hall had been well constructed and that on account of ill health he would not be permitted to superintend the building longer. His resignation was accepted and his account passed.

Mr. Joyall, the cook at the Quebec & Western Land company had a narrow escape last week when the tent in which he was preparing a meal caught fire and made it necessary for him to beat a hasty retreat. A gas engine had been put to use to throw water on the fire and as Mr. Joyall emerged from the tent he tripped on the guy rope and the wheels of the machine barely missed passing over his body.

A letter arrived not so long ago from a Kilowna man submitting several reasons why Wainwright should fight to get rid of the buffalo park. He states that there is a great cost to Wainwright in keeping the park in condition and also that the railway companies prefer to build their branch roads where there is a clear and open country. There are at the time, however, strong indications that the C.N.R. will enter Wainwright.

Sufficient snow has fallen last week to make good sleighing and several winter conveyances have already put in an appearance.

Mr. Colin Cattle, who has taken over the Buffalo Livery barns, has started the erection of a large addition to one of his barns, this being the east building. It will be completed shortly.

Eggs are selling for forty-five cents

TEN YEARS AGO
Nov. 8, 1922

For some unaccountable reason Tuesday morning the ladies of the town all felt a bit shaken. The "juice" that was to have been turned on at 7 a.m. for electric appliances according to schedule failed to make an appearance until 9:40 a.m., whereas one lady put it, half the morning had gone and her "washday spirit" with it.

Owing to the resignation of Mr. J. H. Dawson from office, Mayor C. T. Lally commenced his duties as temporary police magistrate for Wainwright Judicial District Nov. 1st.

The St. Thomas Sunday school donated quite a number of suitable Christmas gifts on Sunday and these will be forwarded on arrival at Prince Albert to the Indian children in various reserves which are under the care of the Anglican church.

Manager Brunker is busy these a dozen here and it is reported they are being sold in Calgary for eighty cents per dozen. It is expected that before spring the price will be much higher.

Threshing operations have been resumed in the district and in spite of a recent flurry of snow the separators are again busy. Stook threshing has been practically abandoned and a serious situation faces those who have not stacked their grain.

days getting the new balcony at the theatre in shape. The operating room has been brought down to the southeast corner of the gallery.

We are indeed glad to report that Mr. A. E. Mills, who has had a severe attack of pneumonia, is now on the road to recovery. He is still pretty weak as yet.

A numerous gathering of local nimrods was out on Monday last to take full advantage of the holiday and incidentally to bring home the bonkers. Several managed to do this too.

ONE YEAR AGO
Nov. 11, 1931

There has been quite an epidemic of broken glass on Main street recently. Someone threw a stone and broke a glass in the door of the Bank of Montreal. A car broke a window in the Safeway store front and some harvesters broke a window in Mr. MacKenzie's insurance office. These have all been repaired.

Only a very slight damage to a plastered partition was the result of a fire which started behind a gas heater at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Clark last week-end. Fortunately a couple of firemen were on the spot.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Crampton motored up to Edmonton to see the grade win their second game on Saturday evening. Messrs. Lorne Mitchell and Fred Redgwell also took the same means of "taking in the game."

Miss Violet Edwards of the local Bank of Montreal staff has been transferred to Irma branch, and left for that point Tuesday.

Miss F. Armstrong was hostess last week for a nice little gathering at her home when Miss M. Reich was the honored guest to celebrate the occasion of her wedding.

So far as can be learned at present Trains No. 77 and 78 (the locals) are to be cancelled somewhere near the end of the month. No exact date is yet available although it is probable that Nov. 21 will be the last day for these trains to run between Saskatchewan and Edmonton for this year, according to alterations being made in the service.

BUY POPPIES on Remembrance Day

(By John S. Roper)

Dominion President, Canadian Legion of the B.E.S.L.

If the material steps taken by the organized ex-service men of Canada during the past ten years are worthy of commendation, primarily must come approval of the efforts exerted on behalf of ex-service men handicapped by war disability and particularly those who, in the ordinary avenues of endeavour are unemployable.

What has been achieved in that respect is very well known in every part of Canada.

To aid these men, who gave that which they cannot recover, Vetcraft Shops were established by the Department of Pensions and National Health. In these shops wreaths and poppies to be used for Remembrance Day are made and by arrangement with the Department of Pensions and National Health these wreaths and poppies are distributed throughout Canada by the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League. Reflect these men were otherwise unemployable, and reflect also that knowledge they could be and were thus employed was chief among the compensations of those striving for the betterment of those who gave so generously in their Country's cause, in humanity's cause.

It should be remembered that if wages for work done was not received by these men, as they are incapable of doing any other kind of work and are incapacitated for other work, they would have to accept local relief in each instance.

The Public should know the following facts concerning the distribution of Vetcraft Poppies on Remembrance Day.

1. All Poppies, Wreaths, etc., distributed in the Poppy Campaign are manufactured by Disabled Soldiers in Vetcraft Shops, or, in some instances, by Disabled Soldiers and their dependents at home, under the Department of Pensions and National Health.

2. The Canadian Legion has entered into a contract each year since 1926 with the Department to purchase exclusively all the poppies and material necessary for the entire National Campaign.

3. The Canadian Legion undertakes annually the distribution of these Poppies, Wreaths, etc. throughout the whole of the Dominion.

4. The National Distribution is carried out through the medium of Canadian Legion Dominion and Provincial Commands who are charged with the duty to see that so far as possible the message of the Poppy is carried to all sections, classes, and communities in the respective provinces.

5. The prices charged by the Legion consist of cost plus necessary expense, entailed in national distribution plus a reasonable margin to cover risk of loss, for which the Canadian Legion must assume responsibility under its contract with the Department.

6. Any monies remaining in the hands of Dominion or Provincial Commands upon completion of distribution are applied to the maintenance of Canadian Legion Service Work which is carried on by the Legion for the benefit of all Canadian ex-service men and women throughout Canada, whether members of the Legion or not.

7. The entire proceeds of the monies contributed by the Public for Poppies are spent for relief or other essential assistance to ex-service men and women.

8. The task of nation-wide distribution of these Sacred emblems is of great magnitude. The twofold objectives—Remembrance of the glorious dead, and practical assistance to the living are most worthy. Join with the Legion and "Buy Vetcraft Poppies on Remembrance Day."

Marriage of Local Man Solemnized

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Knox United Church in Edmonton Wednesday, Nov. 2, by Rev. Philip Duncan when Miss Marian Gibson of Edmonton became the bride of Mr. John White of Wainwright.

The bride was dressed in blue and carried a bouquet of carnations. Miss Kathleen Malcolm acted as bridesmaid and George Morley as best man. A wedding supper was held following the ceremony, with 20 guests present.

The couple will make their future home in Wainwright.

Junior W.A. Had Successful Sale

One of the most successful ventures of the season was that of the Junior W.A. which was held in the Forster & Brunker garage Saturday. Under the leadership of Mrs. H. Bradley, the little girls had their first experience as a group at raising money. The garage show room which is centrally located was beautifully decorated. The "Made in Canada" stall was in itself a piece of art and the little girls dressed in the club colors of Gold and Green united in making a pleasing picture.

The ham was won by Mrs. C. T. Lally who was only one number out, the correct count in the bean jar being 3831. During the day the J.W.A. took in over $67, and had a clear profit of $62. Several of the mothers gave of their services during the afternoon. Those connected with the sale wish to say "Thank you" to those who patronized so generously the children's efforts.

A.Y.P.A. Host to Council Members

Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLeod the A.Y.P.A. had the honor of welcoming six members of the Diocesan A.Y.P.A. Council from Edmonton. The council was composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Potter, Miss Olive Collins, Miss W. Lane, Mr. Don Sims, and Mr. Norman Williams. Mr. Potter, the president, spoke to the local group on the aims and objects, and led a discussion on the workings of the organization. Mr. Williams and Mr. Sims also addressed the young folks.

Bountiful refreshments were served by members of the local group. Mr. Jack Alderman moved a vote of thanks to the visitors and the Vicar closed the meeting with prayer.

On Sunday morning at 8:30 the group met at the Church for Corporate Communion when a five minute address was given by Mr. Potter on the A.Y.P.A. emblem Chi-Rho, meaning For Christ and the Church. Mr. Sims acted as Server to the Celebrant. After service the Edmonton group were entertained at breakfast in the vicarage, and later journeyed to Viking where they were scheduled to hold an A.Y.P.A. service and to assist in the formation of a branch at that point. While in Wainwright the A.Y.P.A. Council were guests at the local hotel.

St. Thomas W.A. Met Wednesday

A meeting of the St. Thomas W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Alex Adams Wednesday evening, with the president, Mrs. C. T. Lally, presiding. Plans were made for a Parishioners social to be held this coming Wednesday evening in the Parish Hall to meet the Clergy and delegates of the Wainwright deanery.

The forthcoming bazaar, which is to be held on Nov. 26, was also discussed and provision made for the same. Mesdames Armstrong, Adams and Whittle will convene the U. Mrs. Milner will be responsible for the home-cooking stall, Mrs. Arkwright will have charge of the Fish pond, while the fancy work will be handled by Mesdames Lally, McLeod, and Hart.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, at the home of the president. As Nov. 30th is St. Andrews Day and recognized throughout the Dominion as W.A. Day, there will be a corporate Communion in the church on that day at 9 a.m.

Thus and Such

By So and So

Well, someone's telling us something! Listen to what was sent us from another paper:

"If a girl has the bad luck to fall in love with a member of the Fourth Estate she should—or if she is incapable of it, somebody should—do something drastic about it. Her mother should take her in hand and marry her off to a wife-beater—a dishonorable fly by night love racketeer—or even an over-zealous provincial police officer—anything is better than the fate in store for her if she follows out her own plans. Girls, if you must marry a newspaperman, go across the line where you can get out of it gracefully when you have found out that your husband loves his work so much that he'll do it for nothing."

We probably should stick up for our sex, but if the girl's a newspaperwoman too, they'll both work for nothing and starve together, and all their friends will tell you what a sad case it was.

This, my children, is the story of Pete Rarabito who was a big cheese from Weichland. You could tell he was one of the Welch rarebits by the way he opened his mouth when he said sausage.

Now Peter was in love with Katy the Kute Katepillar, but Katy didn't reciprocate. She was in love with a bloke named Schofield Skunk, and Schofield didn't stand for any nonsense from Katy. Now this was hard on Katy because she did love her gin. Oh Katy had a heart as big as a snail.

Katy was always the life of the party. Yessir, she sure was a cute trick everyone admitted—but what of it, this is the story of Peter Rarabito and his love life.

Now Peter was really a rascal. He had a mortgage on Katy's fur coat and he threatened to foreclose tomorrow at 3 p.m. unless Katy would marry him. She went to Schofield to get the money, but Schofield wasn't that kind of a boy friend. Schofield said he would take Peter for a ride and put him on the spot, which he did. Peter was a bad egg though, and he got away and asked Katy to marry him which she did. Schofield hoped all their children would have big ears which it did.

A new cook has lots of funny experiences. We know one that baked an empty piecrust the other day and it puffed up until it filled the whole pan. We think now that she didn't roll it thin enough. Anyway they had sliced bananas for dinner that night.

Here's a new suggestion for indoor sports—"Pick 'em up poker" which has reducing advantages. Here is the item from Kitchener, Ont.:

"Women here have an easy way to reduce. It consists of dropping playing cards on the floor and picking them up without bending the knees. But local women changes this. They drop the cards face down and through telephonic communication manage to carry on quite an interesting game.

"For instance, Mrs. Bundigger picks up five cards. She phones Mrs. Hooproller. 'A pair of kings, a queen, a jack and a 10 to go in. My dear, I think I'll throw away one king and try for a straight.'"

"Back she goes to her cards. Mrs. Hooproller can hear the asthmatic cry of joy which followed. 'It's an ace, my dear. Can you imagine? Now it's your turn. But don't forget you have a straight to beat.'"

And they get thin on it!

The answer to this is "Oh Yeah???"

There's a girl now in the Star department who once lived alone in a compartment. But she went hunting men. Caught the pick out of ten. Now he is (?) the head of the apartment.

Perhaps it's better to explain this little incident; so that no one gets the wrong idea. If a Sunday or two ago, you saw one of the town's young business men seated on the front

A pleasant Halloween afternoon was spent by the pupils of Sydenham school. School was adjourned early, and several parents came for the rest of the afternoon. Games were planned for the children, and a very good time was reported by all at the party.

Scoutmaster Lilly was present at a meeting of the Boy Scouts last Tuesday evening and put the boys through some more tests. Another meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15, when the boys will be enrolled and presented with badges. Parents and friends are cordially invited to be at the school by 8 p.m.

We are pleased to hear that Sandy Miller, who was able to leave the Wainwright hospital last week, is now progressing nicely.

Miss Kathleen Kinghorn spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Virginia Gray at Fabyan.

Another whist party and dance to help pay expenses of the children's Christmas tree was held Friday evening at the Sydenham school. A party of young people came out from town, and their cars also suffered from the current epidemic of flat tires.

An unfortunate accident happened to a cow belonging to J. Paul on the British Wainwright property, resulting in the animal's death. The cow was grazing in a field and apparently mistook a pool of oil for water. It became embedded in the oil and was suffocated.

It is now time for the ladies who belong to the United Church Ladies Aid to begin putting the last few nickels and dimes into their gift cards. These will be due the last of November, or, at the latest, December the first. The women in charge are anxious for these contributions so they can figure the amount to be put toward the church obligations.

Greenhills Ladies Aid Held Program

A good program was the reward of the large crowd who attended the sale and tea held Friday evening by the Ladies Aid at Greenhills. Piano and violin selections by Marjorie and Archie McDougall, a reading by Miss Evelyn Muncester, and a wand drill by six junior girls, opened the program. A play, "A Nephew in the House," which was considerably enjoyed ended the entertainment. The characters were Mrs. Parnell, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. D. A. McDougall and Mrs. Preece.

High School Dance Held Last Friday

The student body of Wainwright high school, with friends, gathered at the Masonic hall Friday evening to hold one of the regular school dances. In all, 40 couples attended. Excellent music was provided by a four-piece orchestra, Miss Beatrice McKay, Mrs. E. Ganderton, Vaughan Ganderton and Henry Leroux. A hilarious evening was reported by the many guests.

The Haugen brothers and Mr. Len Wallgren also visited the capitol city during the week.

Quite a number of the Rosedale people attended and very much enjoyed the Sunday school convention which was held in Edgerton on Tuesday last.

The weekly prayer meeting and Bible study class was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Gilbert on Thursday evening. It was very well attended, there being about 30 persons present. It will be held next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. E. Knott.

A new porch is being built onto the Saddle Hill school.

The Junior U.F.A. sponsored a dance in the Rosedale hall Friday night. The music was supplied by Messrs. Norman Myles and Harry Johnson and the young people report a grand time.

Miss Naomi Walker from the park and Miss Norma Wiley from Heath spent the week visiting friends and relatives in the district.

Junior W.A. Met Monday Afternoon

The Junior W.A. of the Anglican church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Bradley Monday afternoon, with 19 members present. The girls voted money toward the Diocesan pledge and towards their affiliation fees. They also voted $50 towards defraying the debt on the church organ. For a few weeks the group will be under the supervision of Mrs. C. N. Bateman and the meetings will be held at the vicarage.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Nov. 7. Rev. Father Doyle officiated as

Greenshield News

By Miss L. Morrison

Greenshields United Church Service, (Rev. Huston, Minister)—Services held in Greenshields School house, as follows: Sunday School at 3.30 p.m., followed by preaching at 3.30 p.m.

Mrs. R. M. Carl is visiting with her daughter in the city, going there Friday.

Curiosity and a desire for entertainment drew a good crowd to the Ladies Aid sale and tea last Friday evening. The piano and violin selections by Miss Marjorie and Mr. Archie McDougall were very much appreciated, and the reading given by Miss Evelyn Muncester brought back memories of ancient ladies in school days. Six girls of the junior group attractive in white dresses with blue sashes, went through the movements of the wand drill. Those taking part in the drill were Lila Muncester, Alleen Murray, Lillian Pfleger, Muriel Hill, Jessie Parnell and Evelyn Muncester. The play, "A Nephew in the House," was greatly enjoyed. The maiden aunts of this ancient family were Mrs. Parnell, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Morrison. The part of the highly respected man was well taken by Mrs. D. A. McDougall. Everyone was interested and highly amused by Mrs. Preece as "Jack" the nephew. The members of the Aid were delighted with the sum added to their treasury and wish to thank all who in any way helped to make the evening a success.

Labor Gains British Votes

LONDON.—Results in 85 of more than 300 municipalities in England, Scotland and Wales where elections were held Tuesday showed the Labor party was the only group to register a net gain despite the fact it was decisively beaten in last year's Conservative landslide.

Returns available showed Labor had gained 61 seats on municipal councils and lost 46 for a net gain of 15. Conservatives gained 29 but lost 31. Liberals gained 14 and lost 20, while Independents gained 15 and lost 16.

Incomplete results failed to show any notable change in control of councils. Labor lost control of Sheffield in the steel district by dropping two seats, but gained a bare majority in Jarrold by adding one place on council to its strength. In Heston Iselworth, a new London borough, Labor had 12 members, the largest group, but the presence of three members of the Ratepayers' Association in addition to nine Conservatives, left the position uncertain. Barnes, another new London borough, returned 19 Independents and five Laborites.

Labor lost control of another council when the Leyton electorate gave Conservatives an additional two seats, enough to provide them with a majority. The Conservatives also gained two seats in Walthamstow, but Labor maintained control. In West Ham, Labor lost a seat, but already had an overwhelming majority.

Liverpool and Manchester again voted Conservative majorities, and in Manchester Labor lost four seats.

Labor gained three seats in Birmingham, Ipswich, Southampton and Hull, four in Sunderland and five in Leeds. In no instance, however, was the gain sufficient to give them a majority. In Blackburn and Newcastle they lost three and in Leicester and Bristol two.

In Wales, Cardiff and Newport retained conservative administrations while at Merthyr, a strong Labor centre, the Labor majority was increased by two seats.

In Glasgow the Moderates, opposed to the Labor party, were assured of a majority of at least 20. There were 125 candidates here for 35 seats. Independent Labor party candidates gained two seats from Labor.

Gilt Edge Echoes

By Miss I. Plaxton

Gilt Edge Service (English Church)—Services next Sunday at 3 p.m. and every other Sunday at 3 p.m.

On Sunday next at Gilt Edge there will be a special Armistice service in the Orange Hall at 3:30 (note the time) when the Rev. Wilson of Edmonton will be the special preacher.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hicox are the proud parents of a baby son born Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the hospital in Wainwright.

Last Friday a banquet was held in the Orange hall for the Orangemen and their families. The banquet was followed by a dance, which lasted until the wee hours of the morning. Lunch was served at midnight and Mr. E. Martin entertained the crowd by giving several piano selections. Mrs. Minter gave a recitation and Mr. F. Goddard sang a song.

A dance is to be held at Mascot on Friday, Nov. 11.

Misses Lulu and Ione Plaxton spent the week-end at their homes in Gilt Edge. They are attending high school in Wainwright.

Mr. Joe Denoncourt and some of the Traynor boys have taken a trip to the north.

YEAR'S TOTAL OF SCHOOL FAIRS 135

EDMONTON.—Reaching a new peak in its growth the school fair development movement has concluded its 1932 season, according to officials of the provincial department of agriculture. Starting 16 years ago with one school fair in a small district centred around Olds, the movement has expanded to the extent that this year no fewer than 135 such fairs were held.

The school fair has definitely won its place in the province as an almost indispensable medium of rural community development, particularly with respect to agriculture. These fairs have furnished a focal point for the work of junior farmer clubs in the immediate localities where these are organized and the two fields of effort have been effectively co-ordinated.

In 1931 more than 35,000 school children exhibited at the school fairs, exhibiting more than 160,000 entries in various classes. More than 1000 schools were represented, from the Peace River area to the international border.

Sponsorship of the school fair has been given by the agricultural department in association with the education department. The former department gives diplomas to the school attaining the largest awards in agricultural subjects and the latter issues a similar diploma in educational subjects.

MRS. POEPPING WAS SISTER FABYAN MAN

Mrs. Louise Poepping, who was killed at the famous Death's Corner at Edmonton a week ago, was the sister of Ambrose Dietrich of Fabyan. Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich were called to Edmonton after the accident to attend the funeral. Since the automobile accident in which Mrs. Poepping was killed, steps have been taken by authorities to make the deadly corner safer.

MEMORIES

I think of the days, the earliest of all, When I was a joy to my parents' fall, When little feet pattered around the hall, With kind hands ready to guard my fall.

Of days when I grew to a bigger boy And had grown tired of playing with a toy, When Mother would gather me up with joy And tell me the things she expected of Roy.

A boy to grow up like a soldier bold, And show respect to both young and old, To fight life's battles with a heart of gold And always do duty, without being told.

Then Daddy would take me up on his knee And tell of the things he expected of me.

I must always keep busy, like a little bee, If I a big figure in life would be.

To play the game straight, be it work or play, To honor my word, my debts to pay, To be a good sport in what I do or say, And not think of reward at the end of the day.

Many years have passed since and I sadly fear That to my dear parents I've cost many a tear. But their Roy still hopes that some day they will hear That he has remained true to their teaching so dear.

—George A. Bond.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

Harmony can do wonderful things for some cities.

Advertising a city is a business—not a child's play.

People will go miles to get to a good, live city to trade.

No advertising gives as quick returns as newspaper advertising.

Business comes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated. The city which does not seek something better than it now has is going to lose out.

A glance through the advertising columns of your newspaper enables you to tell in a few minutes all you want to know, and where to get the service or articles you may need.

Some cities are order takers; they take what comes to them: Other cities are order getters; they make up their mind what their city needs and then go after it until they get it.

Church Notes

So far as we could observe, there seemed to be good attendance at all churches Sunday. I do not know the subjects of any of the sermons in the morning except the one at the Presbyterian Church. I was there and heard most of what the preacher said, as he was just supplying for Rev. Brooker, who was away attending to business in his duties as moderator. A very fine crowd was in attendance and Miss Agnes Carsell gave a very effective solo, the title of which was "God will take care of you". The visiting minister, Rev. W. H. Zook, used as his subject, "Inside the cup," building his sermon around the striking event of Jesus cleansing the temple.

Rev. Wesley Bainbridge preached for Rev. Huston at all three points. The attendance at the evening service was quite large, and his sermon was well received.

The young people of the United church held a splendid Armistice service after church. Miss Florence Torg made some fitting remarks and followed by reading "In Flanders Fields." Several appropriate songs were sung.

The president, Ed. Turner, then called upon Rev. Bainbridge to speak upon the subject of Armistice. He responded with a very interesting address.

cluding digging of holes has been $17.00. This committee feels that it is absolutely necessary to erect a 6 foot wall around the rink as it will afford considerable protection from winds for skating and will free the town of Wainwright from any liability in case any person gets hurt. We have obtained figures from the lumber yards re lumber and posts and find it will cost about $100.00 for this material.

The building known as the Gordon building will have to be moved, and we propose to move this right away. We estimate the cost at $25.00 for moving.

Electric bulbs will have to be bought and other hardware and we are of the opinion that it will cost around $200.00 to put this rink in operation and ask that this committee be given authority to proceed with same.

A train was brought to a standstill by striking a snowdrift. A farmer carrying a long pole showed upon the scene. He would walk a few steps and stick the pole down in the snow.

Finally, he came close to the train, and a passenger opened a window and asked the farmer: "How deep do you find the snow out there?"

"I'll be gosh darned if I know," said the farmer. "I'm hunting for my barn."

Fruit and Milk Important Parts
Of Food Dollar Say Authorities

Cut this out, paste on cardboard and hang on your kitchen wall for ready reference.

By Betty Barclay

Meet the 1932 food dollar! We'll introduce you and explain. This dollar provides a health-maintaining diet at the most economical cost. As the illustration shows, it has been divided by leading food authorities into fifths, each fifth purchasing a group of necessary foods. Next time you go to market, try this plan. One further word! Look for bargains and buy the most that you can with each one-fifth dollar spent.

One-fifth or more (20 to 25 cents) is spent for cheese and milk, either fresh or the cheaper evaporated and powdered forms often sold at bargain prices. Milk provides the best type of body-building proteins, so necessary for the growing bodies of children.

One-fifth or less (15 to 20 cents) is spent for such other protein foods as meats, fish, eggs and the economical stand-bys, beans, peas, lentils, peanut butter.

One-fifth or less (15 to 20 cents) is spent for energy-providing fats and sweets, vegetable oils, margarine, salt pork, butter, molasses, sorghum syrup, corn syrup and sugar, which is a good and very cheap source of food energy if properly balanced with other needed foods. Miscellaneous groceries, such as coffee, tea, salt, baking powder should come out of this part of the food dollar.

One fifth or more (20 to 25 cents) is spent for whole wheat bread, oatmeal, corn meal, wheat cereal, flour, rice, macaroni and similar cereal foods. These are diet staples. They are cheap foods and your 20 cents buy more of them than it will buy in any other food group. But remember the other foods are necessary for a well-balanced diet.

One-fifth or more (20 to 25 cents) is spent for vegetables and fruits. This is a very important food group, providing protective minerals and vitamins together with laxative bulk. The country's foremost food authorities are warning us against the possibility of scurvy, if the daily diet does not provide the fruits and vegetables which furnish vitamin C. Oranges and lemons are foremost sources of this vitamin. Tomatoes provide half as much of it as oranges so that twice as much of them must be given for the same protection. Use into fifths, each fifth purchasing a group of necessary foods. Next time you go to market, try this plan. One further word! Look for bargains and buy the most that you can with each one-fifth dollar spent.

Halloween pranks were played in large numbers in this neighborhood. At the Autumn Leaf school the pranks became somewhat more serious. All the desks were taken from the school and left in the yard, and property was damaged.

Wentz, fishing alone, toppled into the water from a small boat, apparently having lost his balance while playing a salmon. Entangled in his trolling line, he drowned. The fish got away.

Ramblin's

By M. M. E.

Hallo, everybody, how are you? I am a little bit of a yammerer for something to write for you this week, that will increase your cultural knowledge to some extent. And speaking of yams, I am yammering to know what's in the difference between a yam and a sweet potato. Can some kind soul tell me? The only thing I do know about it is that Yams are a damnable easier to say than Sweet Potatoes. Yam I right?

And of all the insidious, insan., insectivora, insensate, insensible, insignificant, insincere, insipid, insistent, instable and insinuating insects, Sid May (who writes Crustard & Mess Calbell) is the worst. In his column last week he had me pictured as a big fat Falstaffian guy with very little hair on my head and a dumb expression. If he only knew the truth! Sid, I'm a thin guy, one that you can't see until I'm passing you, and then you're in doubt whether I'm a shadow, or an animated telephone pole. As for the dumb expression I deny it, I don't even have an expression, and I DO have hair on my head. Altho I must confess that it protects nothing.

And "Expectantly yours", Irma, has her first answer. Here 'tis. Now Mussolini so I am told Likes them plump if not too old. This Irma lass Of just this class Should ship to Italy and there unload.

And little girl, ye idiot of this column thinks that that is one dam-fine idea. Think it over.

And Folks, Lads and Countrymen—watch for a big contest announcement in the column next week. It will be stupendous, stupifying, stunning and wholly stultifying. It is a contest in which all young, old married, single, cross-eyed, bow-legged and pigeon-toed people may enter. And if that doesn't take in everyone I miss my guess. ### Edgerton Ripples

By Rev. W. Bainbridge

Edgerton United Church Service—(Rev. W. Bainbridge, Minister.)—Sunday Nov. 13th, services are as follows: 11:15 a.m., Rosemoynne Schoolhouse; 3:00 p.m., McCafferty; 7:30 p.m., Edgerton United Church.

A large number of little people gathered at the home of Miss Evelyn Pettit on the evening of Oct. 31st to enjoy a very happy Halloween party.

The Old Timers dance staged in the Pawsey Hall on Halloween night provided enjoyment for a very large crowd. The happy times of days gone by were recalled by many of those gathered together, and many tales of days which are now history were related.

A very successful Sunday School convention convened in the United Church here last Tuesday. Delegates were in attendance from Paradise Valley, Ribstone, and a large number of the rural points on this circuit. Papers were given by Rev. Mr. Osborne, Rev. Mr. Bainbridge, and Rev. Mr. Huston, and many helpful suggestions were given out for those who are seeking the best methods for the operation of their Sunday school. The evening session brought together a capacity crowd. Even standing room was very scarce. Rev. J. W. Bainbridge of Viking gave us a message that will challenge most of us for many a day to come, and Rev. R. W. Hibbert in bringing the convention to a close sent us home feeling that no matter how small our school was, it had a task to perform that demanded the very best that we could put into our work. Now that a start has been made in this regard it is hoped that this convention will be repeated at least once each year.

The members of the United Church choir and their friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wednesday evening. A very good program of games, contests, stunts, etc., was enjoyed by all. Now that the choir has completed its organization work, its officers extend to all who are interested in singing an invitation to meet at the practice hour, 8 p.m., every Wednesday evening.

Rev. Wesley Bainbridge attended the Sunday School convention held in the Wainwright United Church last Wednesday.

The Junior C.G.I.T. held a very successful tea in the Church last Saturday. A large crowd turned out to help the girls in their work.

This circuit is to be honored on Tuesday, Nov. 15th, by a visit from the Rev. Hugh Dobson, B.A., D.D. Dr. Dobson is a Secretary of Evangelism and Social Service in the

U.F.A. ASKS QUERY ABOUT FREIGHT RATES

CALGARY.—Request for an inquiry into recent increases in lake freight rates for eastbound grain shipments, further study of deportations and completion of an eight-point memorial on scaling down of farm debts concluded the five-day meeting of the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta.

Pointing to an increase of 100 per cent in grain freight rates on the great lakes "in nine successive rises" since July 28, 1932, the executive decided to petition the minister of trade and commerce at Ottawa to investigate the increases and bring about a reduction. The advances were considered "unwarranted increases in view of prevailing prices."

HUNTING SEASON TO CLOSE MONDAY

The season on duck and geese comes to a close Nov. 14, and the only thing left to shoot around here will be Hungarian grouse. That season closes the last of November.
